Dear Friends,

It is been a remarkable year for the YWCA El Paso del Norte Region. Despite the continuing challenges of the economy, we were pleased to post one of our best years in almost a decade. This could not have been possible without the continued support of members, donors, granting agencies and overall decision making by our staff and volunteer leaders. As with most non-profits, the future has been difficult to predict, and annual planning takes the form of cautious optimism. While we are not ready to throw caution to the wind, we can say with certainty that the strategic decisions made in recent years have strengthened the organization.

We have much to accomplish in the future; yet, we take pride in celebrating the services and achievements of 2009-2010. Notably, our recurring theme of investing to strengthen existing infrastructure has proven to be the right move for uncertain economic times. We are strengthening operations, working toward national accreditation of a number of our programs, and building upon existing models where feasible.

The YWCA El Paso del Norte Region continues its legacy as the largest, most comprehensive YWCA in the nation, providing services from housing for the homeless and for senior citizens, financial counseling and debt management, child care and after school programs, racial justice, leadership, support for divorcing parents, to a host of fitness programs designed for persons of all ages.

After providing after school programs for decades, the El Paso YWCA After School Division is poised to have the very first nationally accredited Army After School Programs that are community based in the country! We are very proud of this accomplishment and invite you to read more about the work of the YWCA over the past year.

Lastly, we invite you to be a part of our future as we set the course and continue to blaze new trails on the frontier of service to women, children, families, servicemen and women, and the elderly.
highlights 2009 - 2010
• More than $875,000 were given away in financial assistance for YWCA child care, memberships and partnership programs (more than double the prior year)

• Almost 700 Empowerment Zone families were able to retain jobs, gain employment, or attend school with the support of gap funding. This enabled them to receive financial support for child care while on the wait list for Child Care Services subsidy support

• 2,700 children received quality childcare, enabling parents to go to work and/or school

• 162 homeless children from 99 families were cared for at the Judy and Kirk Robison Mi Casa Child Development Center at no charge to the family

• 4,569 persons became healthier by participating in YWCA health and wellness, swimming and fitness Programs

• 1,878 adults helped their children by attending YWCA “Children Cope with Divorce” classes

• 488 northeast El Paso area youths benefited from leadership development programs of the YWCA Teen Services; Teen Services hosted its first FBI Teen Academy with 30 participants

• 16,398 people listened and then talked about racism via the YWCA Racial Justice Initiative which hosted 722 seminars over 812 hours, an increase of more than 100 hours over the prior year

• 2,000 volunteers provided more than 28,000 hours of service

• 3,904 individuals and families received credit, budget and housing counseling

• 3,890 persons benefited from YWCA financial and homebuyer education classes

• 78 homeless women and their 148 children put their lives back together through the Sara McKnight Transitional Living Center and Independence House

• 15 low income seniors were able to maintain their dignity and live independently at the YWCA Senior Housing Complex, adjacent to the Dorothy Woodley Hunt Branch in El Paso’s Lower Valley

• $6,649,723 was returned to creditors through more than 1,370 debt management plans investing in children and families
After-School

Research has shown that quality after-school programs help students apply themselves academically and finish high school, increase their readiness for college, and reduce grade repetition. During the school year, children throughout the county participated in 52 YWCA after-school programs. YWCA activity leaders and assistants are at each school site before the dismissal bell rings. Children begin their homework assignments and enjoy healthy snacks, games, crafts, outdoor recreation, and tutoring.

A new curriculum was added to support efforts to standardize after school activities and programming throughout the region. Staff at seven locations completed program self-assessments and instituted parent advisory groups to aid in facilitating the YWCAs work toward becoming nationally accredited at three after school centers.

The YW Zones “Gym-in-a-bag,” initiative continued at all after school sites, making it possible for children to experience broader fitness activities. The “Gym-in-a-bag” is made possible through a partnership with the Paso del Norte Health Foundation.

Summer Camp

Almost 375 youth participated in YWCA summer camps, coordinated by the School-Age Division. Licensed day camps are held for youth in all areas of town and feature both indoor and outdoor activities, games, swimming, arts and crafts, language experiences, field trips and other special programs to enrich children’s out-of-school experiences. A healthy breakfast, lunch and snack are served daily. YWCA summer camp programs play a critical role in assuring that young people return to school ready to learn. Our summer camps are not only affordable, but the youth love the programming and meet lifelong friends.

Pre-school Child Development Centers

The YWCA El Paso del Norte Region is the largest provider of non-profit child care in the city of El Paso, providing care to over 900 children daily. YWCA Pre-School Child Development Centers are high-quality, caring places that address children’s cognitive, social-emotional and physical needs. Each state-licensed center offers nutritious, home cooked USDA approved meals, convenient hours for working families, and dedicated, well-trained staff. Our child care partners include EPCC, the Children’s Learning Institute, EPISD, The Housing Authority of the City of El Paso, the City of El Paso, and the Department of Defense. This year the YWCA was able to invest (through grants funded by the El Paso Empowerment Zone, the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 and the Army Child Care in Your Neighborhood program) over $150,000 in new program materials and equipment.
Major health and fitness activities include:

- YW Zones: A major fitness initiative that is made possible through a partnership with the Paso del Norte Health Foundation, and provides trained instructors for youth ages 3-16 years.
- WOW classes (Women on Weights)
- Family fitness programs that focus on addressing the needs of the whole family
- 2nd Annual Race Against Racism
- 2010 “Y” Challenge: More than 100 employees participated in a 10 week fitness program resulting in staff’s measured weight loss and decreased body fat content.
- 2009 Aerob-a-thon and 2010 Water-a-thon
- New fitness classes including Cardio, Y Drumming, Bender Ball, and Gliding.
- Easy Triathlon
- Silver Sneakers
- Zumba Fitness®

The Health and Wellness Division promotes and supports healthier lifestyles in the El Paso Del Norte Region by offering a variety of fitness and aquatics programs. In locations throughout the greater El Paso area, there are five indoor pools open year-round, and three outdoor summer seasonal pools including the Mary Ann Dodson Camp. The start of Zumba Fitness® classes was a highlight this year with the YWCA hosting training and recruitment efforts for regional Zumba Fitness® Certified Instructors. The 2nd annual competitive 10K Race Against Racism grew by 93% with the top female finisher, Patricia Smith, achieving a time of 39.07.30 minutes. The YWCA was honored to dedicate the Lower Valley Branch, renaming it the Dorothy Woodley Hunt Branch. The Dorothy Woodley Hunt Branch has had the continuous opportunity to collaborate with the UTEP College of Health Sciences in the implementation of Phase 2 of HEART (Health Education Assessment Research Team), a community-based participatory research project, whose overall goal is to reduce risk factors for cardiovascular disease in Hispanics in El Paso, Texas using the community health workers/promotores de salud model. This project is funded by the National Institutes of Health and other collaborators to include the University of Texas School of Public Health El Paso Regional Campus, El Paso Community College, Centro San Vicente, and El Paso Parks and Recreation. The Healthways Program expanded its marketing efforts to all five branches, showing a dramatic increase in participation in the Silver Sneakers classes.
strengthening families in transition
Transitional Living Center

Since 1993, the Sara McKnight Transitional Living Center (TLC) has provided housing and supportive services to homeless women and their children. Residents may stay for up to two years as they progress through an individualized self-development plan to advance their education, obtain job skills and employment, and build the life skills needed to move to permanent housing and maintain their independence. In 2009-10, the TLC was home to 78 women and 148 children.

Community Development Corporation

The YWCA Community Development Corporation was established in 1998 to address the need for affordable housing, and continues to manage affordable housing options for families in need. Projects include:

- senior apartments
  Adjacent to the Dorothy Woodley Hunt Branch, the YWCA Senior Housing was home to 21 elders and 4 grandchildren over the past year. Low income seniors benefit from affordable apartments at below market rates. The apartments provide older adults the opportunity to live in a community of peers and access the resources of the YWCA branch.

- independence house
  Independence House supports women who are homeless due to family violence. It is a mixed use facility consisting of eight apartments and commercial office space occupied by the YWCA Consumer Credit Counseling Service. Residents of Independence House may live in the apartments up to 24 months, and are charged program fees not exceeding 30% of their monthly income. This year the program served 16 women and 25 children through individual case management. The program promotes the building of healthy relationships at home, school, work and in the community.

Children Cope With Divorce

The YWCA delivered 60 classes to 1,878 parents pursuing divorce. The quality of this program and its relevance to families in the divorce process is highly rated by attendees: Ninety percent of participants agree that it will help them to deal with their spouse/ex-spouse, 96% agree it will help them to understand their children, and 97% agree that the presentation was high quality. The Cope program continued to work in partnership with the Rollercoasters program, an initiative that helps children adjust to and understand the changes related to family divorce.

Child Care Services (CCS)

Through a contract with Workforce Solutions, Upper Rio Grande, the YWCA manages the CCS program. CCS provides financial support to qualifying families who are working and/or pursuing an educational program. In 2009-10, CCS supported an average of 9,198 children monthly with total contract expenditures of $24,624,254. Over 1,000 children were served each month through ARRA (American Recovery and Reinvestment Act) funding.

Judy and Kirk Robison Mi Casa Child Development Center

The Mi Casa Homeless Child Development Program provides nurturing and developmentally appropriate care to the children of families who reside in El Paso homeless shelters. It is the only licensed homeless childcare program in the city. The center has a “Four-Star” rating, the highest under the Texas Rising Star program (a quality child care initiative). Many children are transported to Mi Casa daily from area homeless shelters and transitional living centers.

Mi Casa offers parents a safe environment for their children so they can focus on obtaining or maintaining employment, or attending job skills training.
Consumer Credit Counseling Service (CCCS)

Consumer Credit Counseling Service reaccredited with the Council on Accreditation and was recognized for its exemplary business and customer service practices.

Consumer Credit Counseling Service (CCCS) staff provided financial education and homebuyer education classes to 3,890 attendees; and provided credit, budget, and housing counseling to 3,904 individuals and families. The Division also returned $6,649,723 to the community through approximately 1,374 debt management plans. CCCS continued its involvement on the steering committee of the “Don’t Borrow Trouble” campaign of the City of El Paso (an initiative to raise consumer awareness of predatory lending practices), and participated in the “Invest in the American Dream” education initiative sponsored by Texas Senator Eliot Shapleigh. With continued funding from Bank of the West, CCCS promoted healthy savings and credit use through its community financial education programs. CCCS participated in the El Paso Coalition for Family Economic Progress by serving as a VITA income tax preparation site. Division staff participated in the City of El Paso's two community-wide home preservation foreclosure prevention fairs. National Council of La Raza (NCLR) and the City of El Paso continued funding for first time homebuyer counseling and education. CCCS was granted continued funding through the San Antonio Area Foundation Texas Resources for Iraq-Afghanistan Deployment (TRIAD) Fund to provide financial counseling to deployed military and their families. CCCS received continued funding from the United Way of El Paso County to provide financial counseling to women living in transitional housing programs.

CCCS New Mexico

CCCS/YWCA Credit Counseling and Homeownership Center in Las Cruces entered into a new service agreement with La Casa, Inc. to provide financial counseling to residents who are victims of domestic violence. Continued funding was provided by the United Way of Southwest New Mexico for crisis credit and housing counseling activities, and we continued our work with New Mexico Mortgage Finance Authority and the Housing Authority of Doña Ana County to counsel and prequalify prospective homebuyers in the Southern New Mexico Colonias. We partnered with the Community Action Agency of Southern New Mexico to provide financial counseling and money management education classes to their constituents in Las Cruces, Anthony, Silver City, and Mesquite; and in Doña Ana, Luna, Sierra, and Otero counties. National Council of La Raza provided continued funding for first time homebuyer counseling and education activities.
For more than 100 years, the YWCA has played an integral role in building our community, from the early days of operating cafeterias to show hospitality to persons passing through our community, to operating residences for women in search of safe housing. Today, we continue to build our community through our Racial Justice Initiative, Momentum Leadership, Teen Leadership, and Volunteer Services.

Racial Justice
The Racial Justice “We... the People” Initiative fosters justice, appreciation for diversity, and the elimination of racism via our core values of Respect, Understanding, Acceptance and Appreciation through education, collaboration and dialogue. In 2009-2010, 16,398 staff and community members benefited from 722 training seminars. YWCA Racial Justice facilitators provided 812 hours of training; an increase of 112 hours over the previous fiscal year. This year, the Racial Justice Curriculum was expanded to include fifteen new modules on topics such as, Cultural Understanding, Cross-Cultural Communication, and Change-Agent Behaviors.

The Racial Justice Program held its second annual Imagine: Peace event in May 2010 with increased participation from community members, organizations, and YWCA staff. At this event, the Racial Justice Ambassador Awards were presented to Dr. Johnnie M. Washington, the Rainbow Miner Initiative, and Clemencia Prieto. The El Paso Holocaust Museum and Study Center partnered by hosting a photo contest to illustrate the various themes of peace.
Teen Leadership
The YWCA Teen Leadership program engages youth ages 11-18 in programming that encourages them to make positive life choices. Through the Community Youth Development (CYD) Grant serving Northeast El Paso, 488 youth received in-school and afterschool programming addressing self awareness, appreciation of differences, and responsibility for self and community. CYD Summer camps introduced 126 youth to art, science and healthy lifestyle choices. A new partnership with the El Paso Field Office of the FBI offered a teen academy to 30 youth who were nominated by community members. Continued partnership with the United Way of El Paso allowed staff to offer 1,560 students mentoring sessions with a service learning focus intended to engage youth in building their community.

Volunteer Services
Volunteers have a significant impact on YWCA services to the community. Just over 2,000 volunteers contributed more than 28,000 hours of service to the YWCA. YWCA Volunteers work in child development and afterschool programs; they tutor children and adults in the Sara McKnight Transitional Living Center, sort donations, support administrative operations, and serve on various committees of the Board. Volunteers hosted fundraising activities and planned our annual women’s benefit event which raised more than $300,000 last year. They facilitate racial justice and leadership workshops and mentor homeless women. Our volunteers do so much more, not the least of which is leading our Board of Directors. We owe a great deal of gratitude to these individuals. Without them, we would be challenged to meet our numerous goals and objectives, across all agency divisions.
support to military families
Parents as Teachers
Through the Parents as Teachers Born to Learn™ model, certified parent educators provide child development information and encouragement to parents to help their children learn, grow, and develop to realize their full potential. This program brings professional parenting support to military parents at a time when families are increasingly impacted by repeat deployment, demands at home and the stress of separation. During 2009-10, thirty (30) families and thirty-nine (39) children under age six (6) were supported.

Army Child Care in Your Neighborhood (ACCYN)
Funded by the National Association of Child Care Resource and Referral Agencies, ACCYN seeks to ensure that military families arriving in our community have access to high quality, affordable child care. The ACCYN contract has supported the establishment of a network of thirteen home and center-based child care providers. Military families who enroll in network centers receive subsidies to cover a portion of their child care costs. Over 300 children were supported with subsidies.

Army School-Age Programs in Your Neighborhood (ASPYN)
ASPYN is a program that provides fee assistance to military and Department of Defense (DoD) civilian patrons living off post. ASPYN providers are trained to meet the National After School Association (NAA) Standards for Quality School-Age Care. NAA is considered the leading voice of the after-school profession and is dedicated to the development, education, and care of children and youth during their out-of-school hours. ASPYN is a collaborative effort among the United States Army, the YWCA, and the National Association of Child Care Resource & Referral Agencies (NACCRRA).

Consumer Credit Counseling Service (CCCS) for Military Families
For two years, the YWCA CCCS received funding from the Permian Basin TRIAD Fund to provide financial counseling assistance to military families with service members serving in Iraq or Afghanistan. In 2009, funding was awarded by the San Antonio Area Foundation’s TRIAD Fund to continue these services.
